

CAITLIN AGNEW

SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE AND MAIL

PUBLISHED DECEMBER 31, 2020

UPDATED JANUARY 4, 2021

FOR SUBSCRIBERS

COMMENTS

SHARE

TEXT SIZE

BOOKMARK

...

Torontonians have some new retailer additions to get to know this year. Quebec-based custom lighting design and manufacturing company Luminaire Authentik has a new showroom in Leslieville, its first store outside of Quebec. The company is known for its Scandinavian aesthetic and customizable lighting options. American eyewear brand Garrett Leight California Optical has selected Toronto to be the home of its first international store, which joins the retail hub on West Queen West. And Swiss timepiece maker Tudor Watch has opened its first store in North America at the Yorkdale Shopping Centre.